Lieut. Governor Holden's Card.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6th, 1870.

Having suffered nine or ten years with a throat and bronchial affection, I applied to Dr. Aborn, who has treated me about two months. I feel it my duty to state, for the benefit of those afflicted in like manner, that I found immediate, and I think permanent relief from his treatment, and that I consider his treatment scientific, and that the Doctor is master of his profession.

WM. HOLDEN.

NASAL CATARRH.

Speedy and radical cure of Nasal Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis and Affections of the Lungs, and all complaints that lead to Consumption. All who are suffering from Catarrh in the Head—that loathsome disease so prolific of evil consequences—can be speedily and permanently cured if they apply for treatment in season. There are thousands of cases of throat disease, bronchitis and consumption due solely to catarrh, to say nothing of its less terrible consequences, impaired sense of hearing, smell, taste and sight, the loss of hair and teeth, the disgusting effluvia of the breath, the dingy complexion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, etc. These are far numberless cases, caused solely by catarrh in the head. The disease afflicts thousands who have never suspected its presence. Its symptoms are so diverse in different individuals as to often mislead the sufferer and his medical adviser. The only safe and proper course is to have an examination from a physician competent to make a correct diagnosis and to cure the evil when found to exist. Dr. Aborn cures this loathsome disease after the ordinary modes of treatment have failed.

OREGON.

The Catholics will erect a church in Salem next summer. It will be three stories high with a front of 100 feet.

Albany's debt during the year 1871 was decreased by the sum of one thousand forty-three dollars and fifty-two cents. The remainder of the debt is six hundred and ninety-eight dollars and twenty-seven cents.

The Albany Democrat of the 5th says: "The Chicago capitalist who was to have erected an extensive carriage manufactory and other mammoth enterprises in Albany, disappeared from our midst last week, leaving sure enough swindled landlords to mourn his departure. Chicago sufferers are at a discount here."

Says the Statesman: During the past week we have heard of more than one individual cursing the country and people because, forsooth, they were out of employment and could find nothing to do. In a majority of cases those persons were either too lazy to work or else they refuse to search for any kind of labor except that of the most desirable nature.

A man named Edmondson shot another named Bush near Eugene City a few days ago. A party of young men, of whom Edmondson was one, were going home from town pretty drunk. They all had revolvers. As they rode by Bush's house, Edmondson stopped to talk with Bush, and the rest went on. In a short time those who had gone ahead fired their revolvers to hurry Edmondson up. He, attempting to answer them, drew his revolver, and discharged it in such a direction as to strike Bush in the breast, two barrels going off at once. It is thought Bush will recover, though the wound is dangerous. Edmondson expresses deep regret at the circumstance, and it is believed that it was unintentional.

THE TERRITORIES.

In Thurston county, W. T., including Olympia, there are 722 school children.

The editor of the Port Townsend Argus was the recipient from the Christmas Tree of a splendid watch and plenty... Such luck!

The Olympia Tribune recently thanks Heaven that there is not now snow enough left on the ground at that place "to swear by!"

Two Alden engines started overland from Philadelphia some days ago, designed for the N. P. R. R. They will reach Salsama within three weeks.

Dr. Rounds, formerly of Wallamet University, is now Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction in Washington Territory. His address is Union Ridge, Clarke county.

There is a curious state of society at Puget Sound. The Seattle Dispatch finds it necessary to express itself plainly that there should be no misunderstanding between old settlers and new comers.

Steilacoom is envious of Olympia, because the latter is choice for the terminus, and declares that the railroad company can't get their iron up to within fifteen miles of Olympia, except at extreme high tide.

A colored cook on board a vessel at Seattle, asphyxiated with charcoal one night last week. He had put a handful of coal in a pan to burn to keep his room warm. When found in the morning he was quite dead.

A large railroad depot is to be built at Kalama, occupying a whole block. The rails have been laid for the first twenty-five miles. About two hundred men are employed on the next ten miles clearing and grubbing.

We have received the first numbers of the Puget Sound Courier, a new daily which made its first appearance at Olympia on New Year's day. It is well got up, and the Olympia Echo says, has already made a favorable impression. In politics it is Republican.

Some people in Washington Territory want a State government. They will have to wait. The new law of Congress prohibits the admission of any new Territory till it has the full number of inhabitants to entitle it to one Representative in Congress, say about 140,000.

The Kalama Beacon says: On Saturday night 31st ult., a Swedish boatman named Harold Jensen was drowned in the river between the wharf and Emily Island, by a skiff filling with water in which himself and a companion were at the time. Search for his body has been continued ever since but so far without any trace as to where it may be found.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Fraser river is frozen over solid.

The Dominion Pacific Herald is the name of a new paper just started at New Westminster.

Victoria papers complain of the brutal treatment which Chinamen receive at the hands of boys and rowdies.

Messrs. Spratt & Irving have built a steamer of two hundred tons at San Juan Island, which was launched on the 30th ult.

There is a report in Victoria that several ship loads of Fenians are on their way from San Francisco to capture Vancouver Island. An Olympia paper has a report that the city was under martial law, with troops parading the streets, business suspended, and the greatest excitement prevailing. Those Fenians are terrible fellows.

There is an antagonism between the two papers of Victoria which manifests itself in everything. They can't even agree upon the weather. If one of them says the snow fell to a given depth the other swears that not a flake came down; and if one states that the temperature is below the freezing point the other asserts that it is not below moderate summer heat.

RAYINGS AND SUGGESTIONS.

Consistent advocates of civil service reform,—the Quincy Whig and press.

Mr. Jacob Kendle fell from the roof of a house at Olympia last week, but fortunately wasn't "snuffed out."

The Democratic State Committee meets here to-day (Monday) to confer with Grover's Police on the coming campaign.

President Grant made a very respectable pun in his message in the statement that "agriculture is the groundwork of our prosperity."

"The devil has no power over a man without a mortgage on that man." Thus preaches the Corvallis Gazette to an individual who has left a good farm and come to that town to keep a drinking saloon. Yes, and "some other man" will soon have a mortgage on that "good farm," too.

A few days ago the Oregonian contained an account of what was called the largest steel works in the world, located in Germany and covering a square mile of ground. A correspondent writes to correct this story. He says everybody ought to know that the largest steel works in the world were located in the city of New York, and covered many square miles.

The right of a child to prosecute his parents for whipping him, and to recover damages in a court of law, is in process of demonstration in Cincinnati. The complainant, who is an infant in the eyes of the law, seeks damages to the amount of $50,000 from his parents for the abuse and ill-treatment he has suffered at their hands since 1858. The boy's petition recounts how he was thrashed with an iron ram-rod and with rubber whips; how he was dragged about the house and down two flights of stairs by the hair, and how, by way of encouraging penitential meditation, he was thrust into a closet, under a tank of hot water, and kept there for ten hours, in such a position that he was unable to stand up or sit down.

A machine has recently been perfected in London with which a writer using a pen in the usual manner, can at the same time produce a duplicate so small as to be invisible to the naked eye, yet so distinct that a microscope will reveal every line and dot. A useful application it will be for the prevention of forgery, as private marks can be made which no imitator could see or even suspect the presence of.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The grave of General Braddock, who was killed in the memorable expedition to Fort Duquesne, in 1755, is in Fayette county, Pennsylvania, and the only evidence to indicate it was a rotten stump of a tree beside which Braddock's bones were reinterred about 1822. Recently the Pittsburg nurserymen set out a number of trees about the resting-place of the British soldier.

Hon. T. L. Smith, First Auditor of the U. S. Treasury, who died recently, had reached the advanced age of eighty-three. He had been in the public service forty-one years; his mental faculties were bright and vigorous to the last, and when the night of his useful career closed around him, he was in the midst of his duties as an exact and faithful public officer, watchful, supervising, until compelled to relinquish.

A most remarkable case of petrification is that of the body of a lady well known in Kalamazoo. On attempting to remove the body from one cemetery to another, the sexton found the coffin so heavy that he had to procure the assistance of a number of men. It was then raised to the surface, but in so doing the coffin was broken, and revealed the marble-like body within. An examination was made, and the features were found to be perfectly preserved; even the petals of flowers upon her breast were marbleized and intact. The folds of her clothing and everything were wonderfully preserved, and the whole body and covering were statuesque in appearance. It is said the coffin was full of water when found.

Among the plants of Guinea, one of the most curious is a cannon-ball tree. It grows to the height of sixty feet, and its flowers are remarkable for beauty and fragrance, being of a beautiful crimson, appearing in large bunches, and exhaling a rich perfume. The fruit resembles enormous cannon balls; hence the name. However, some say it has been so called because of the noise which the ball makes in bursting. From the shell domestic utensils are made, and the contents contain several kinds of acids, besides sugar and gum, and furnish the material for making an excellent drink in sickness. But, singular as it may appear, this pulp, when in a perfectly ripe state, is very filthy, and the odor from it is exceedingly unpleasant.

The Bey of Tunis, during the last ten years, had gradually succeeded in throwing off the sovereignty of the Sultan of Turkey. The Bey raised large sums of money by loans in foreign markets, sent ambassadors to European courts, and acted like an independent prince. He was encouraged in these proceedings by the Emperor Napoleon III., and practically emancipated himself from the superior control of the Sultan, returning insolent replies to the remonstrances of Turkey. Since the German victory over the French and the fall of Napoleon III., circumstances have changed, and several powers of Europe, and particularly Italy, were preparing to punish the Bey for aggressions upon their subjects. The Sultan also was fitting out an expedition to subdue his rebellious vassal. The Bey, therefore, was obliged to yield and come to an understanding with Turkey. He offered to relinquish all rights of sovereignty provided the Sultan would secure to the Bey and his heirs the right to govern Tunis, and also grant them protection against hostile foreign powers. This offer was complied with the payment of a large sum of money, and the proposition was accepted by the Sultan in spite of the opposition of the French Ambassador at Constantinople.

A Worcester, New York, genius has produced what he calls the smallest steam engine in the world. The Spy says: "The maker of a miniature engine shown us, claims for himself and not city the honor of producing the smallest steam engine in the world. However great the honor may be, the engine is surely a wonderfully small piece of mechanism. It is made of gold and silver, and fastened together with screws, the largest of which is one-eighteenth of an inch in size. The engine, boiler, governor and pumps stand in a space seven-sixteenths of an inch square, and are five-eighths of an inch high. Perhaps a better idea of its smallness will be conveyed by saying that the whole affair may be completely covered with a common tailor's thimble. The engine alone weighs but fifteen grains, and yet every part is complete, as may be seen by a microscopic examination; and it may be set in motion by filling the boiler with water, and applying heat, being supplied with all valves, &c., to be found upon an ordinary upright engine. To attempt an estimate of its power would seem like rather small business, but, for a guess, our opinion is that a span of well-bred fleas would furnish more force if they were properly harnessed and shod. The little thing would tug away several minutes if encouraged by a drop of water heated by the application of a burnt finger.

NEWS CONDENSATIONS.

A bill is about to be reported in Congress for the naturalization of Indians. It proposes to give to all their proportion of reservation lands and annuities, and, after living two years a civilized life, to make them voters.

There is now loading at Philadelphia a great ship with the material necessary for building a nitrate of soda factory at Iquique, Peru, and an expedition left New York a few days since, to instruct the natives of Ecuador in mechanic arts, agriculture and piety.

One shipment of two tons and another of six tons of chickens and turkeys were sent from Davenport, Iowa, recently. The order was made by the heaviest commission firm in Nevada, who had the contract for supplying fowls for Christmas dinners of several societies belonging to the Miner's Association.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says of the appointment of ex-Senator Williams to the position of Attorney General: The country has always recognized his high attainments as a lawyer and a jurist, and knows that upon his accession to the office it will be invested with a dignity and importance which have been wanting during the present administration.

A Peoria man was attacked and knocked down by a wild steer, which attempted to pin him to the ground. Luckily, the animal's horns passed between the man's body and arms. Possessing great muscular power the man seized the horns and with all his force twisted the steer's neck and threw him. He then jumped up and ran, but his flight was needless, as the steer was found dead the next morning just where he was thrown, his neck having been broken.

While the Yale professors are agitating the establishment of a school for training editors, the Cornell faculty have decided on this department of instruction. The course in letters, as the new department is called, will extend through four years. The prominent studies will be those relating to social and political science, literature, history, and modern languages. Faculties will be afforded for learning the printer's trade, in connection with the University printing office.

Some of the planters in the sugar district of Louisiana have been experimenting with white labor on the share system, and are highly pleased with the result. One planter in the parish of St. Mary has twenty-one field hands, all white, at work, and they will make over sixty hogsheads of sugar and fifteen barrels of molasses to the hand, besides raising enough corn for their own use. Where white men have worked side by side with negroes they were no more affected by the heat than the latter, and it was found that the negroes accomplished more labor than when working by themselves.

Railroads and Imports.

PORTLAND, January 5, 1872.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: I noticed a statement in the OREGONIAN of what the Secretary of the Interior had said in regard to the route of the Northern Pacific railroad. I hope that the Northern Pacific Company will truly see it to their interest and welfare to locate the route of their road as shadowed forth by the Secretary of the Interior. It is only a question as to the route to be adopted, I think; for the Northern Pacific surely cannot ignore our valley and the city of Portland which stands at the entrance to it. By your permission I will venture to offer a suggestion about railroads, and, competition or monopolies. The Northern Pacific railroad is largely interested in forwarding the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake railroad. They are as largely interested proportionately as their influence, capital and future are great.

Commerce does not enter into a port from the ocean, to be oppressed or taxed by a monopoly; and nothing is a monopoly but what has no competition. San Francisco, now, is

The debate ended with the adoption of a resolution to appoint a Joint Committee to make a thorough investigation. Of course such an investigation neither the Administration nor the Republican party shrink from. Its result will make the Administration even stronger than now in popular estimation, because by such a course the malicious accusations of its enemies will be silenced. It was well, perhaps, that this attack was made so early. People will have opportunity to obtain full information on the subject, and to make up their judgment before the Presidential election.

The New Apportionment.

A Scientific Prediction.

Professor Agassiz has given a proof of the scientific faith that is in him, by staking his reputation on a prediction. It has been freely asserted that he was preparing to abandon his objections to Darwin's theory of development. So far, however, from this being the case, he ventures to predict that during his voyage in the Southern Atlantic and Pacific he will find proof of the correctness of the theory with which his own name and fame are identified. In a letter dated at Cambridge, the 2d ult., and addressed to Professor Pierce, he begins by briefly stating his own scientific theory of the earth and its inhabitants:

If there is, as I believe to be the case, a plan according to which the affinities among animals and the order of the succession in time were determined from the beginning; and if that plan is reflected in the mode of growth, and in the geographical distribution of all living beings; or, in other words, if this world of ours is the work of intelligence, and not merely the product of force and matter, the human mind, as a part of the whole, should so shine with it that, from what is known, it may ch the unknown; and if this be so, the amount of information thus far gathered should, within the limits of errors which the imperfection of our knowledge renders unavoidable, be sufficient to foretell what we are likely to find in the deep as abysses of the sea, from which thus far nothing has been rescued. I believe there is a correlation between the gradation of animals in the complication of their structure, their order of succession in geological times, their mode of development from the egg, and their geographical distribution upon the surface of the globe. If that be so, and if the animal world designed from the beginning has been the motive for the physical changes which the globe has undergone, and if, as I also believe to be the case, these changes have not been the cause for the diversity now observed among organized beings, then we may expect, from the greater depths of the ocean, representatives resembling those types of animals which were prominent in earlier geological periods, or bear a stronger resemblance to younger stages of the higher members of the same types, or to the lower form which take their place nowadays.

Swamp Land History.

Mr. Greeley, in his Recollections of a Busy Life, gives a history of the origin of the swamp land grant made by the General Government to the States, and of some of the abuses under it. He was in Congress at the time the measure first proposed. We quote from the Recollections:

These lands, we were told, were not merely worthless while undrained; they bred fevers, ague and all manner of zymotic diseases, shortening the lives of the pioneers, and rendering the good lands adjacent unhealthy and worthless. But once these swamp lands to the States including them respectively, on condition that they should sell them and devote the proceeds to draining and improving them, and all would be lovely, the neighboring dry lands would sell rapidly, and the Treasury be generally replenished, etc. There never was a cat rolled whiter in meal; and I, for one, was completely duped. As I recollect, the bill did not pass at that session; but we reported strongly in its favor, and that report doubtless aided to carry the measure through the next Congress. The consequence was a reckless and fraudulent transfer to certain States of millions on millions of choice public lands, whole sections of which had not mark enough on their surface to accommodate a single fair-sized frog; while the appropriation of the proceeds to drain ing proved a farce and a sham. The lands went, all of them that had standing water enough on a square mile of surface to float a duck in March, with a good deal more beside; while never a shake has any pioneer been spared by reason of all the drainage done under this specious act.

The New York Evening Post is a paper of that class denominated "Liberal Republican," and in a representative of those Republicans who are expected to unite with the Democrats under the "passive policy." The following, therefore, from the Evening Post of the 12th ult., is quite significant: "A little incident in Congress yesterday suggests the questions, Have the Democrats any policy upon any question? Mr. Wood, of New York, introduced a resolution favoring all sorts of reform, including a reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis. The Republicans opposed it, because of its partisan tone, but most of the Democrats supported it as a Democratic measure. The Pennsylvania Democrats, however, opposed it, and Mr. Samuel J. Randall distinctly said that they did so because "revenue reform is not a part of the Democratic creed." Adding the abandonment by the Democratic party of the old revenue tariff policy to its championship of rebellion and its collusion with official corruption, what doubt remains that its hour of doom has come?

German Opinion.

Augustus Weissman, of New York City, is the first German-born citizen who was ever elected to the Senate of the State of New York. The New Yorker Journal, a Democratic paper, represents him as speaking of Gen. Grant and the present National Administration in these terms:

I consider the present Administration a good one, and President Grant a good and honest man, who is a credit to the high office he holds. I have followed his course with attention, and have arrived at the conviction that the Union, under existing circumstances, cannot hope for a better man for President than Gen. Grant. His Administration has been honest and economical. It is an old saying that a householder who pays his debts is improving his circumstances. Grant's Administration has been careful to heed this saying. It has diminished the debt of the country and thus improved its condition, and I have the fullest confidence in the man who is now at its head.

A game is now going on in Oregon to repeat the worst abuses that have been perpetrated in other States, and all to enrich a comparatively few persons. This is being done under the specious plea of "protecting the interests of the State," when, in truth, nothing could be more injurious to the interests of the State than this absorption of its best lands by speculators. The frauds practised on the Government, and on the people as well, by land rings in other States, will, it may be hoped, put the agents of the Interior Department on their guard against a repetition of like things here, so that no lands except those of really swampy character may pass into the hands of speculating rings.

Col. Larrabee prints an elaborate article in the Seattle Dispatch entitled "Disintegration." He says that "no one can fail to see unmistakable signs of the dissolution of the Democratic party," and that in adopting its new departure it has "given up all claim to vitality by conceding its opponents to be right." This is plainly stated; yet we did not need to go either to Delphi or Seattle to learn it. Col. Larrabee has been a life-long Democrat.

To-day (Monday) the Democratic State Committee will take the first step for organizing their campaign. It is going to be pretty hard this year to give the party a suitable outfit of principles, and the Committee will no doubt feel a good deal of embarrassment. They might feel somewhat relieved if the Herald would republish for their edification one of its elaborate articles of two years ago in behalf of repudiation.

LUCKY AFTER ALL.—A story is told at the expense of a legal gentleman, who was formerly known in Norwich, Connecticut, who now lives in Oshkosh. One Smith had failed in business and sold out, and having two or three tough little bills, had given them to the lawyer for collection. Mr. Smith went to him to receive the proceeds. The amount collected was about fifty dollars.

"I'm sorry you have been so unfortunate, Smith; for I take a great interest in you. I shan't charge you as much as I should if I did't feel so much interest in you."

Here he handed Smith fifteen dollars, and kept the balance.

"You see, Smith I know you when you was a boy, and I knew your father before you, and I take a great deal of interest in you. Good morning. Come and see me again.

Smith, moving slowly out of the door, and ruefully contemplating the avails, was heard to mutter:

"Thank God, you didn't know my grandfather!"

RAILWAY ALARM.—A Michigan railroad company has attached to thirty-four of its locomotives a new style of alarm-bell. The bell is so attached that when the engine goes the bell rings, being struck by the hammer once at each revolution of the driving wheels. Being placed directly in front of the boiler, the sound of the bell is seldom heard by the engineer or fireman on the engine, and cannot be heard on the train; consequently it is no annoyance to passengers, while it is claimed, its position causes the sound to be thrown forward and conducted by the earth and the railroad track or rails, so that it can be heard a considerable distance in advance of the train, thus giving timely warning.

DR. A. M. LORTEA & Co.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many ailments. MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 8, 1872.

Man's "Sphere" and Woman's "Sphere."

Human society organizes itself under general, all-pervading and overruling laws. Men and women take their respective places, and assume their respective duties in the family, in society, in the world, not under regulations which are mere conventionalities, but under laws which are ordained by nature and which are irreversible in their operation. In large degree the duties, employments and responsibilities of men and women are diverse, and necessarily so. Man cannot perform woman's functions nor woman man's; there are fixed laws of nature which cannot be transcended. No more can man perform woman's duties or woman's employments, nor woman man's; for, say what we will, nature has made it otherwise. It is a fixed law of our existence that we must labor for our bread. Man's duties are of the rougher, heavier sort; it devolves upon him to obtain for his family the means of subsistence. Woman's duties are of the domestic sort and pertain to home. It is her province to keep the home and care for her offspring while husband and father goes forth to obtain their food and it. This is the order established by nature and nothing can change it. It is not at all to the purpose to cite instances of worthless men who fail to provide for their families and leave that duty to the mother of their children, for these instances in no way affect the general rule.

Woman is as unfitted for most of man's employments as man is to take woman's place in the household to rear and train the children of the family. Those women who complain that they are shut out from man's employments simply quarrel with their Creator because they are not men. It is a truth, though one often sneered at, that woman has her "sphere." So has man. Woman is in her sphere in matters of a purely domestic character, as man is in his, when he tends the forest, harvests the grain, or sails the ship. It is impossible to make the relative duties, employments and responsibilities of men and women interchangeable, though some now seem to think that they can be made so.

This is preliminary to saying again, as we have said heretofore, that nearly all the arguments used in discussing woman suffrage are wholly irrelevant to that question. Nearly all the arguments presented for it are put in the form of complaints against the present constitution of society, against the hardships which are thrown upon women from employments in which men engage, against the low wages paid to woman for their labor, against the grinding fate of maternity and of household duty. In no degree whatever will the possession of suffrage by woman affect or change any of these things. Before these and numberless other "reforms" which are daily demanded can be brought about, woman must cease to be mothers and must become physically able to do that which men do. Women, so long as they must be the mothers of mankind, will find their duties, their employments, their "sphere," different from men's.

But we have no patience with that cant which asserts that suffrage will degrade women. She cannot be degraded. To imagine such a thing possible would simply be to suppose that all human society could be corrupted and broken up. But suffrage will give the great majority of women no advantage which they do not now possess. It will not enable the mothers of the land to take new employments, to hold office, or do anything else which the strongest sex prefers to engage in. It will relieve them of none of their family cares, or of their duty to their children. It will not make a brutal husband or father, or give a timid or abused wife any advantage or power over him which she does not now possess. A wife can now leave her husband for brute treatment. She could do no more if a voter. Wages are regulated by a rule which is above legal enactments; hence a voting woman can obtain no greater wages than a non-voting one. These illustrations might be pursued indefinitely; but enough has been said to suggest an outline of the considerations we would present if our space and time permitted.

Opposition Tactics.

We have already alluded to the debate which recently took place in the United States Senate on civil service abuses. A tremendous effort has been made to turn the circumstance to the benefit of the opponents of the Republican party. It was falsely charged that those who represented the Administration were determined to stifle investigation and to shield alleged corruption. This was charged, though no opposition whatever was made to the most searching investigation that could be demanded. Objection, however, was very properly made to the manner in which it was sought to present the question. Mr. Edmunds of Vermont said that some Senators were discussing it as if they wished to impress the people with the idea that they were being plundered in every direction by the officers of the Government, and that we have reached a climax of corruption which could only be met by reviving a Committee whose existence had expired with the last Congress. The Senator from Illinois (Mr. Trumbull) had drawn a very dark picture of the public service at this time, yet he undoubtedly knew that, considering the number of persons employed in that service and their duties, the administration of the Government for the last three years would compare favorably for efficiency and purity with any previous Administration whatever, even that of Washington himself.

Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts said that a turn had been given to the debate which was calculated to produce an erroneous impression before the country. Some were assuming that an effort was being made to shield the Administration and to cover up something that was wrong. This was unjust and untrue, for neither the Administration nor the Republican party had anything to conceal. Everything was open to the full light of day. Any investigation which any Senator might call for should be made. But it was not honorable nor just to try to produce the impression that theft, robbery and corruption were everywhere the rule and honesty the exception. Immense sums had been disbursed by Republican officials during and since the war, and an infinitesimal proportion had been lost. The Administration was vigilant in detecting and punishing crime, and concealed no case of embezzlement from the country. The good old times, he said, were often referred to. But in the Administration of President Van Buren ninety-two out of ninety-eight receivers of public money were defaulters. There was no such demoralization in the public service no, nor anything approaching it.

The debate ended with the adoption of a resolution to appoint a Joint Committee to make a thorough investigation. Of course such an investigation neither the Administration nor the Republican party shrink from. Its result will make the Administration even stronger than now in popular estimation, because by such a course the malicious accusations of its enemies will be silenced. It was well, perhaps, that this attack was made so early. People will have opportunity to obtain full information on the subject, and to make up their judgment before the Presidential election.

The New Apportionment.

The apportionment bill which passed the House on the 14th December, as has already been stated, increases the total number of Representatives from 243 to 283. The following tables show the distribution of members in the present House, that of the members under the apportionment, the gain or loss of each State, the gain or loss of the four sections into which the country is generally regarded as divided, and the percentage of membership belonging to each of these sections:

A Scientific Prediction.

Professor Agassiz has given a proof of the scientific faith that is in him, by staking his reputation on a prediction. It has been freely asserted that he was preparing to abandon his objections to Darwin's theory of development. So far, however, from this being the case, he ventures to predict that during his voyage in the Southern Atlantic and Pacific he will find proof of the correctness of the theory, with which his own name and fame are identified. In a letter dated at Cambridge, the 2d ult., and addressed to Professor Pierce, he begins by briefly stating his own scientific theory of the earth and its inhabitants.

If there is, as I believe to be the case, a plan according to which the affinities among animals and the order of the succession in time were determined from the beginning, and if that plan is reflected in the mode of growth, and in the geographical distribution of all living beings, or, in other words, if this world of ours is the work of intelligence, and not merely the product of force and matter, the human mind, as a part of the whole, should be chime with it; that, from what is known, it may form the unknown, and if this be so, the amount of information thus gathered should, within the limits of error within the imperfection of our knowledge renders unavoidable, be sufficient to foretell what we are likely to find in the deepest abysms of the sea, from which thus far nothing has been secured. I believe there is a correlation between the gradation of animals in the complication of their structure, their order of succession in geological times, their mode of development from the egg, and their geographical distribution upon the surface of the globe. That be so, and if the animal world designed from the beginning has taken the motive for the physical changes which our globe has undergone, and if, as I also believe to be the case, these changes have not been the cause for the diversity now observed among organized beings, then we may expect, from the greater depths of the ocean, representatives resembling those types of animals which were prominent in earlier geological periods, or bear a stronger resemblance in younger stages of the higher members of the same types, or to the lower form which take their place nowadays.

Swamp Land History.

Mr. Greeley, in his Recollections of a Busy Life, gives a history of the origin of the swamp land grant made by the General Government to the States, and of some of the abuses under it. He was in Congress at the time the measure first proposed. We quote from the Recollections:

"These lands, we were told, were not merely worthless while undrained, they bred fevers, ague and, all manner of zymotic diseases; shortening the lives of the pioneers, and rendering the good lands adjacent unhealthy and worthless. But cede these swamp lands to the States including them respectively, on condition that they should dell them and devote the proceeds to draining and improving them, and all would be lovely, the neighboring dry lands would sell rapidly, and the Treasury be generally replenished, etc. There never was a cat killed whiter in meal; and I, for one, was completely duped. As I recollect, the bill did not pass at that session, but we reported strongly in its favor, and that report doubtless aided to carry the measure through the next Congress. The consequence was a reckless and fraudulent transfer to certain States of millions on millions of choice public lands, whole sections of which had not muck enough on their surface to accommodate a single fair-sized frog; while the appropriation of the proceeds to drainling proved a fierce sham. The lands went, all of them that had standing water enough on a square mile of surface to float a duck in March, with a good deal more beside; while never a shako has any pioneer been spared by reason of all the drainage done under this specious act.

The New York Evening Post is a paper of that class denominated "Liberal Republican," and is a representative of those Republicans who are expected to unite with the Democrats under the "passive policy." The following, therefore, from the Evening Post of the 12th ult., is quite significant: "A little incident in Congress yesterday suggests the questions, Have the Democrats any policy upon any question? Mr. Wood, of New York, introduced a resolution favoring all sorts of reform, including a reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis. The Republicans opposed it, because of its partisan tone, but most of the Democrats supported it as a Democratic measure. The Pennsylvania Democrats, however, opposed it, and Mr. Samuel J. Randall distinctly said that they did so because "revenue reform is not a part of the Democratic creed." Adding the abandonment by the Democratic party of the old revenue tariff policy to its championship of rebellion and its collusion with official corruption, what doubt remains that its hour of doom has come?

German Opinion.

Augustus Weissman, of New York City, is the first German-born citizen who was ever elected to the Senate of the State of New York. The New Yorker Journal, a Democratic paper, represents him as speaking of Gen. Grant and the present National Administration in these terms:

I consider the present Administration a good one, and President Grant a good and honest man, who is a credit to the high office he holds. I have followed his course with attention, and have arrived at the conviction that the Union, under existing circumstances, cannot hope for a better man for President than Gen. Grant. His Administration has been honest and economical. It is an old saying that a householder who pays his debts is improving his circumstances. Grant's Administration has been careful to heed the saying. It has diminished the debt of the country and thus improved its condition; and I have the fullest confidence in the man who is now at its head.

A game is now going on in Oregon to repeat the worst abuses that have been perpetrated in other States, and all to enrich a comparatively few persons. This is being done under the specious plea of "protecting the interests of the State," when, in truth, nothing could be more injurious to the interests of the State than this absorption of its best lands by speculators. The frauds practised on the Government, and on the people as well, by land rings in other States, will, it may be honed, put the agents of the Interior Department on their guard against a repetition of like things here, so that no lands except those of really swampy character may pass into the hands of speculating rings.

Col. Larrabee prints an elaborate article in the Seattle Dispatch entitled "Disintegration." He says that "no one can fail to see unmistakable signs of the dissolution of the Democratic party," and that in adopting its new departure it has "given up all claim to vitality by conceding its opponents to be right." This is plainly stated; yet we did not need to go either to Delphi or Seattle to learn it. Col. Larrabee has been a life-long Democrat.

To-day (Monday) the Democratic State Committee will take the first step for organizing their campaign. It is going to be pretty hard this year to give the party a suitable outfit of principles, and the Committee will no doubt feel a good deal of embarrassment. They might feel somewhat relieved if the Herald would republish for their edification one of its elaborate articles of two years ago in behalf of repudiation.

LUCKY AFTER ALL.—A story is told at the expense of a legal gentleman, who was formerly, known in Norwich, Connecticut, who now lives in Oshkosh. One Smith had failed in business and sold out, and having two or three tough little bills, had given them to the lawyer for collection. Mr. Smith went to him to receive the proceeds. The amount collected was about fifty dollars.

"I'm sorry you have been so unfortunate, Smith, for I take a great interest in you. I shan't charge you as much as I should if I did't feel so much interest in you."

Here he handed Smith fifteen dollars, and kept the balance.

"You see, Smith I knew you when you was a boy, and I knew your father before you, and I take a great deal of interest in you. Good morning. Come and see me again."

Smith, moving slowly out of the door, and ruefully contemplating the twain, was heard to mutter:

"Thank God, you didn't know my grandfather!"

RAILWAY ALARM.—A Michigan railroad company has attached to thirty-four of its locomotives a new style of alarm-bell. The bell is so attached that when the engine goes the bell rings, being struck by the hammer once at each revolution of the driving wheels. Being placed directly in front of the boiler, the sound of the bell is seldom heard by the engineer or fireman on the engine, and cannot be heard on the train; consequently it is no annoyance to passengers, while it is claimed, its position causes the sound to be thrown forward, and conducted by the earth and the railroad track or rails, so that it can be heard a considerable distance in advance of the train, thus giving timely warning.

Failure of many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco to cure a case of Rheumatism.—Triumph of the Uak Weed Remedy.

SAN JOSE, August 25, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOWEN & Co.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many ailments. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but without any effect. At last I was induced to try your UNE WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism I say TRY THE UNE WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly, JAMES AHERN, San Jose.

MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 8, 1872.

CITY.

TEMPERANCE ITEMS IN PORTLAND AND OREGON.—The two Good Templar Lodges in this city, Multnomah and Nonpareil, are prosecuting their labor with more energy and effect than ever before. Within the last sixty days they have initiated not less than sixty-five persons. On Saturday evening last twelve were admitted to membership in Multnomah Lodge, and on Wednesday evening last five or six in Nonpareil.

The Father Matthew Society, lately organized in our city, is destined to do a good work. They already number some forty members, with every prospect of building up an organization soon to reflect credit on its founders, as well as to become one of the permanent institutions of our city.

Multnomah County Lodge, of Good Templars will hold its regular quarterly meeting at the Hall of Nonpareil Lodge, in this city, on the 7th of February next, at 11 o'clock A. M. Committees have already been appointed to receive delegates from abroad. A Grand Mass Meeting and Temperance Rally is to be held at the court house on the same evening. Professor Meisle, of the Hall street M. E. Church, is to deliver the address.

A State Temperance Convention is to be held at Salem on the 22d February next. Delegates are now being elected all over the State by the different temperance organizations to attend the Convention.

Mrs. Carrie F. Young, the great temperance advocate, is lecturing in Yamhill county. The indications are very strong that the friends of the cause may soon look for a temperance revival.

DR. ATKINSON.—The Pacific of San Francisco contains the following: "Dr. Atkinson has not yet returned from the East. At our last advices we hear of his presenting the cause of Home Missions at Andover, Massachusetts. At the close of one of his addresses he made an earnest plea for the endowment of one of the professorships; the plea was made in the presence of some gentlemen who, able and generous, felt the force of this particular appeal. Dr. Atkinson was to be present at the meeting of the College Society, where he will advocate the interests of our Pacific institutions, including, of course, as is meet at the University at Forest Grove. It may be well that this zealous pioneer, who commenced the work twenty-three years ago, will address some special meetings in furtherance of the new departure in regard to Home Missions. Thankfully and hopefully we congratulate our North Pacific brethren on getting more and more the ear of the East in behalf of this most important part of the common work."

THE TELEGRAPH AND MAILS.—The telegraph and mails have got out of joint for two or three weeks, but there comes a glimmering of hope that both will be reconstructed and in working order within the next few days. We learn that a man was sent out from Yreka, on Saturday, to repair the telegraph line, and it is hoped that connection will be made through to-day. A large through mail is expected to arrive here via California, to-morrow. The Columbia is still closed and no Eastern mails can be soon expected from that direction. The carrier who left this city last Monday, to proceed overland to the Dalles, returned yesterday, finding it impossible to get through. He encountered snow not less than twenty feet deep, and when he got into that his horse could no longer travel. We must wait for the breaking up of the Columbia for our next mail facilities by way of Eastern Oregon. By the Columbia now the mails are expected to arrive hereafter with comparative regularity.

A STREET FLOOD.—During nearly all of Saturday evening, a rain storm prevailed which for severity is seldom equaled in this country. The rain fell in torrents, flooding the gutters in roofs and making leaks where none were ever known before. The street drains were overflowed, sidewalks and crossings, in many places, submerged to such an extent as to make wading the derniér resort. If a person wished to walk more than a block. At many of the intersections, floods of water ran across First and Front streets, flowing in a broad stream into the river. This state of things continued for several hours, and all the low portions reached a depth only through having currents and broad lakes of water. The effects of the flood were plainly visible yesterday, in deposits of mud upon sidewalks, flood-trash in the streets, or deep gullies cut in the earth.

DAMAGE TO THE RAILROAD.—A report was current yesterday morning that the heavy rains of the night before had undermined the Fourth street railroad bridge. We are happy to say that the report was altogether incorrect, though the road bed beyond the bridge did receive some damage. There is rather a deep gully a couple of hundred yards beyond the southern end of the bridge which had been filled with earth to make the road bed. The extraordinary rains of Saturday night washed a considerable quantity of this filling, and let the track down so that trains were unable to pass. A large repairing force of men was, however, put to work yesterday morning, and by the middle of the afternoon the damage was entirely repaired and the locomotive ran over the recent gap. The bridges were not injured at all.

G. A. R.—The following are the officers of Baker Post No. 1, G. A. R., mustered in Saturday evening, January 6th, by Deputy Commander C. P. Crandall: Commander, J. B. Reynolds; S. V. C., E. Ross; J. V. C., John E. Green; Adj., E. W. Ryan; Q. M., J. P. Fort; Surg., J. M. Hoak; Chap., J. Henderson, Jr.; Sgt. Maj., Asa Cornart; Q. M. Sgt., A. W. Powers; O. G., F. Ramey; Sent. C. E. DuBois. The Post will be for Council of Administration, C. P. Crandall, P. Ramey, C. E. DuBois, J. E. Green, E. W. Ryan. The Commander appointed for Bureau of Replacements and Relief, E. Ross, A. Cornart, P. Ramey, J. E. Green, C. E. DuBois, J. P. Fort, W. C. Hitchcock.

THE THIEVES RUNNING RIOT.—Last Friday night, about ten o'clock, as we are informed, a young man named Kent was followed by a couple of men who knocked him down and robbed him, near the Taylor street M. E. church. On the same night, and the following night, several houses were entered and robbed. Among them, the houses of Mr. S. M. Lyon at the corner of Fifth and Oak, Mr. Lewisberg in the same neighborhood, and Capt. Dick Williams, near the skating pavilion. Where is the Metropolitan Police?

ORIENT LODGE INSTALLATION.—On Saturday evening the following named officers of Orient Lodge No. 17, I. O. O. F. of East Portland, were installed: J. S. Taylor, N. G.; H. S. Williams, V. G.; J. W. Clayton, R. S.; W. J. Beatty, Treasurer; S. E. Joseph, C.; H. Hanson, O. G.; F. Boyle, I. G.; R. Boshen, Chaplain; P. Kelly, R. S. of N. G.; U. Hassel, L. S. of N. G.; P. C. Ebbert, R. S. of V. G.; J. N. Gordon, L. S. of V. G. B. F. Ausmus, J. Dolan and J. M. Hoak, Trustees.

BLOCK TO BE FILLED UP.—Capt. R. R. Thompson has purchased that part of block 34 which lies between the mammoth brick buildings of Capt. Ankeny, and Savier & Co. fronting on Front and First streets, and will, in the spring put upon it another brick, extending through from the one street to the other. This, when done, will cover the entire block with brick, making the finest block of buildings in the city. Capt. Thompson paid $20,000 for the ground—two lots.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—This is the day appointed for the meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee. A good many of the Democratic politicians of the State are here—Radicals, New Departurists, Passivists, Militia Governors, Nesmithers, etc., etc.—nearly enough to represent all the known styles of Democracy. It is unnecessary to say that the gathering is rather numerous.

TEMPERANCE DRAMATICS.—About the 20th inst., the members of Nonpareil Lodge, Good Templars, will give a dramatic entertainment, on which occasion will be played the domestic drama entitled the "Free Hearted Man." It has not been yet determined whether the entertainment will be given in Nonpareil Hall or Philharmonic Hall.

ARRIVED.—The ship Windward arrived on Saturday in tow of one of the Columbia river steamers. She is moored at Mollett's wharf. She looks much the worse for wear, having received serious damage at first from a gale and then from meeting ice.

LECTURE.—Mrs. A. J. Duniway will deliver a lecture, next Thursday evening, at Nonpareil Hall, corner Madison and First streets. Her subject is not yet announced.

COUNTY COURT.—The County Commissioners held a session on Saturday, and examined a number of claims against the county. They will meet again to-day.

PORTLAND SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

PORTLAND, JANUARY 8, 1872.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: The Sunday schools of the State, and of Portland in particular, are creditable and honorable to the Christian public, and especially to the superintendents, officers and teachers who have the responsibility of their management. The first Sunday in each month is a good time with the pupils of the schools. The session of that day is generally conducted in the form of a missionary concert, or in some such manner. The first Sunday of the new year has always some fresh attraction at these institutions for the children and their friends. Knowing this to be the case, I made up my mind to see some of their operations yesterday.

I visited the school in connection with Dr. Lindsley's church, at 1 o'clock. The school room was crowded with members and friends. Mr. Wadhams, the Superintendent, was reading a report of last year's proceedings, which gave great satisfaction to all. It was gratifying to see a first class business man giving his time and experience to a good work of this kind; it augurs well for the moral and religious tone of the city to find merchants, officers of the army and ladies of distinction walking in the footsteps of the Saviour when He gave command to "suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God."

The Rev. Dr. Lindsley followed with an appropriate and beautiful address, full of lessons of wisdom and encouragement, and delivered in attractive and eloquent words.

The general aspect of this school is decidedly favorable. But children should not be put down in the "lower regions;" they should have the brightest and most cheerful rooms to be had. Everything connected with children and young people should be made as bright and beautiful as possible. Place as many roses as possible along their path.

A friend took me to the Taylor street Methodist Sunday School at 2 P. M. It was their monthly missionary concert. I saw it under the most favorable circumstances. The afternoon was dry, the large and elegant room was crowded to excess by the children, teachers, parents and friends. The music was cheerful and the singing was general. The recitations and dialogues were most appropriate, and well executed. The addresses were short. The Superintendent, Mr. Caples, is the right man in the right place. He makes all feel at home and happy. The programme of exercises was carried out in a spirit that gave pleasure and joy to all present. The musical department was excellent, and the children were bright, beautiful and orderly. The large audience gave a good collection, to which the Chinese class contributed some dollars.

The old prophet foresaw the coming happy days for the young, when "the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof." And the sacred poet seemed to anticipate these latter days of joy and gladness, when the power of well trained children is now being realized when he saw and sung "Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength."

OBSERVER.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATRE.—There was an immense audience at this place of amusement Saturday evening. The play was "The Robbers of the Bohemian Forest"—a thrilling tragedy affording many opportunities for fine acting, and displaying a number of striking scenes and tableaux. Mr. Waldron received the compliment of a call before the curtain, and the audience twice demanded the raising of the curtain upon one of the tableaux. The performance entire gave great satisfactions, and it will undoubtedly be called for again. Besides Mr. Waldron, Mrs. Waldron and Misses Fulford and Robinson deserve special mention for excellent delineations of the character assumed. We think the general judgment of the audience was that the play was better mounted than any other of its predecessors of the season. It was almost marvel how it could be so well done upon so small a stage. This evening the beautiful and romantic drama of "The Creole"—for the first time in this city—will be put on.

SOIREE.—Mr. Charles Cardinell has a dancing soiree every Saturday evening, in connection with his Dancing Academy. Last Saturday evening, notwithstanding the drenching rain, quite a large party of ladies and gentlemen assembled and "chased the flowing hour," etc., till midnight. These weekly affairs, under Mr. Cardinell's admirable management, are very enjoyable.

SKATING MASQUERADE.—There was rollicking fun at the Rink Saturday evening. A number of the most expert skaters appeared upon the floor in a sort of burlesque masquerade, and created great merriment with their fantastic dress and imitations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

RT. REV. Bishop Morris is expected home within a month.

A man named McEwan was brought up from Astoria on Saturday and lodged in the Insane Asylum.

THE Hibernian Benevolent Society has resolved to give an annual ball on the evening of St. Patrick's Day.

The steamer Senator was withdrawn only temporarily from the Oregon City route, and is now again in service.

An East Portlander fell off the J. street bridge last Friday night and broke his nose. That nose wouldn't do for a bridge.

If the rain-storm of Saturday night and last night extended all over the country, we may look for high water in the Willamet.

It is stated that Adjt.-Gen. Denniston has made a requisition on the general government for arms and equipments to the value of $2,311.

A union meeting of most of the evangelical churches of this city was held at the Presbyterian church last evening, Rev. Dr. Lindsley preaching the sermon.

The persons composing the troupe lately connected with the Theater Comique are going away on the steamer this evening. The legitimate drama frore them out.

BALL.—The members of Columbia Rebekah Degree Lodge of this city, are making preparations for a grand annual ball, to take place at the Skating Pavilion on the evening of Thursday the 18th inst. We shall in a day or two be able to furnish particulars.

TERM ENDED.—On Saturday Judge Upton disposed of a large number of cases remaining upon the docket of the Circuit Court, and then adjourned the Court for the term. It has been an unusually long and laborious term.

CLATSOP CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Upton will go to Astoria to-day for the purpose of holding a term of the Circuit Court for Clatsop county.

TO SAIL.—The steamship Ajax will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon, for San Francisco.

THE NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated in 1835, and is therefore the oldest purely Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States; it has cash assets of over $10,000,000, and is the only Company on the Pacific Coast governed by the Massachusetts Non-Forfeiture Law, offering all the advantages of age and prudent management, its average expenses being lower than any other Company in the United States. It also offers protection against forfeiture by virtue of the MASSACHUSETTS NON-FORFEITURE LAW, which is a feature of great importance, and should be carefully considered by all persons seeking insurance. BOARD OF DELEGATES.

The Board of Delegates of the Fire Department held their regular monthly meeting on Saturday evening at the Police Court room—A. B. Hallock, President, in the Chair.

A communication was received from A. A. Williams of Multnomah Engine Co. No. 2, tendering his resignation as a member of the Board, which was, on motion, accepted.

Mr. A. C. Ripley of Multnomah Engine Co. No. 2, presented a certificate of election as Delegate vice A. A. Williams, resigned. Mr. Ripley took and subscribed to the oath of office and took his seat as a member of the Board.

A communication was received from D. Deits tendering his resignation of the office of Second Assistant Engineer of the Department. The resignation was accepted.

A communication was received from the Secretary of Columbian Engine Co. No. 3, requesting that certificates be issued to Samuel Winans and John T. Williams, who have become members of said company. On motion, the Secretary of the Department was directed to issue the certificates as required, provided that no legal objection be found.

The Secretary of the Board called attention to the fact that there was a discrepancy between the Judges' report of the recent election and the tally lists as kept by the Clerks.

A motion was submitted to refer the matter to a committee for investigation, but this motion was finally, after some discussion, indefinitely postponed.

On motion it was resolved that the Board proceed to the election of a Second Assistant Engineer in place of D. Deitz, resigned; whereupon, a ballot being taken, Jim Flanson was elected, and the President and Secretary were directed to issue to him a certificate of election.

The Board adjourned.

TESTIMONIALS.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the Science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty Testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although in the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the end segregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before investing, any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our home and interview her pupils.

WHITE—Respected Madam:—Having heard of your System of teaching the Pianoforte, known as the Robbe-American Method, and having been present a few days since, at the exercises of one of your pupils, Miss Lena ——, of East Portland, I was pleased and exceedingly gratified, at the great performance of the most difficult pieces, (such as Gottschalk Bango, etc.) and this after the short term of six months tuition.

Allow me to express my approbation of your System of your Instruction, and with my best wishes for your success allow me to subscribe myself,

Yours Respectfully,

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it winter-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transpierce the warmest clothing, and are apt to effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest way to avert the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver, and brace the nerves with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diptheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver complaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever; the importance of rendering the system impervious to these two destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off, and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

And I would that my wallet could furnish

Oh, well for old Robinson's son,
He can sail in his yacht on the bay.

And he says that I owe for the cost on my back,
Well, I think I shall owe for it still.

Would only come back to me!

PICKINGS.

Chicago has grown pious since the fire. An agent for the Kentucky Library scheme, was arrested there, and held in $500 bail for violating the law prohibiting lotteries and sale of lottery tickets.

This Cincinnati Enquirer publishes a very cheerless dispatch from Washington to the effect that there "is not one of the 130 members of the House who is willing to announce himself opposed to the renomination of Grant."

A cynical individual on reading a pathetic story in one of the papers lately, noted in his memorandum book as follows: "Somebody whittled. Teacher calls up big boy on suspicion. Big boy comes up and holds out his hand, sullen and savage. Noble little boy comes mantully forward and says: 'I'm the boy that whittled, sir, at the same time holding out his hand. Teacher comes down, and lets them both off. (Moral—Noble little boy thought teacher wouldn't lick him if he told the truth, and knew the big boy would if he didn't.)"

Josh Billings says: "About the biggest joke there is about the fall of man is that he has larnt how tew rute hog or di. This iz worth, in my opinyun, very near just cost. But i flatter miself bi thinking in this way: that the man who lives in this world, and duz a good square thing, there life, none of yer 8 hour jobs, haz more tew brag ov than any ov the angels up in heaven."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

SATURDAY EVENING, Jan. 6, 1872.

Gold in New York 109¼.

Portland Legal Tender quotations 90¢ buying; 91¢ selling.

The consumption of Spanish coin at our last mail advices (December 16th) from New York, was attracting great attention from the leading financial and commercial journals. As yet we have failed to see in any two the same views expressed. It only are the facts at variance, but the New York Shipping List reports the mercantile community in the same position and says "there appears to be very little unanimity of sentiment." In a former number of THE OREGONIAN we gave our views at length without reference to the stringency in the money market on this coast, caused by the flow of Gold East some four or five years ago when, in San Francisco, coin could not be obtained in any large quantity, causing great anxiety to be felt, in the "mercantile community," regarding the result. Under this state of affairs, it was finally all in the middle course to have the State Constitution so altered as to admit of the issue of paper money, but before any definite plan was arrived at, the supply of specie gradually increased under the action of the banks and capitalists refusing further accommodation to those desiring to make remittances. Resumption of specie payment by contracting the present circulation would cause a greater flow of coin to the East than we have ever seen, and result in a more stringent money market, with disastrous results to the business community.

The Bulletin is not likely to be upset to-day. It is thought that to put her in as good a trim as before disaster will require from $10,000 to $15,000.

The bark Zenobia is expected up to-night, and she has railroad iron for Kalama.

The steamer Alida is announced to leave on Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, for San Francisco.

We were to-day informed that the steamer Montague was to leave for Victoria to-night bound up. She has been laid up for some time past with the loss that commercial affairs are blamed for those men whom they have brought to contract, and acting upon this belief, took to run against their own interest by going contrary to views of commercial editors. One thing above all others, our farmers should bear in mind, and that is, shipments of Wheat, spark the market prices. Hearty all, exporting wheat, are those who have large consignments of goods sent them from England, with instructions, in many cases, to purchase Wheat and ship it to them instead of buying exchange, and remitting the same to them. Of necessity, exporters look largely one year and make largely another, as they do not expect to realise much more than cost of exchange. It should be borne in mind, by all, that the markets of the world are opened to all, and any desiring to embark into any branch of industry, even if assured by others, can do so, more particularly in this applicable to shipments of Wheat. Any farmer, or combination of farmers, seeking to obtain better prices for his or their cereal abroad than obtainable at home, can always ship at any time desired, to any market in the world. So it is merely foolishness in any one to try and mislead farmers, particularly commercial writers, who, above all others, should be beyond the reach of all outside influences, freely giving their opinions on all commercial subjects. It is, however, natural to close our ears, to a great extent, against everything calculated to prove that what we earnestly desire to come to pass, will not. But a commercial writer, who, desiring to sustain the high character of the calling, and build up for himself a name that any assertion or statement made by him will be accepted by all interested, with entire confidence, should never allow himself to be influenced from, when he makes a statement, giving the exact state of the article written upon.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—We heard of a single purchase being made in Washington county for a dealer here at $1 82½ per cental without sacks. The market presents this singular characteristic, that if a holder wished to sell he would have to take 2c ₱ ₱ or $2 ₱ cental, but if a party wished to purchase an amount of any moment he would have to pay at least from $2 25@2 30 ₱ cental, under present views of holders.

FLOUR—The Ajax's cargo will be composed mostly of standard brands, which is sought for, we understand, by bakers in San Francisco at rates a shade higher than California brands. We quote the market for extra of standard brands at $7 ₱ bbl; choice country brands at $6 75; superfine and outside brands, $6@6 50 ₱ bbl.

OATS—Notwithstanding the large receipts from California per Wildfire and Windward—about 4,000 sacks—the market retains its tone, but with the California market still flooding down monsoon give way.

HAY—Quotations are a shade lower. Chiefly in consequence of our merchant holdings of under the high prices but when they are forced to replenish, prices, it is thought, will go still higher. Dealers are paying for baled Timothy, $13 ₱ ton; other qualities, $12@13 ₱ ton.

BRAN—Jobbing at $20 ₱ ton.

WOOL—The Boston Shipping List says: "We have to notice a very excited market the past week, and, as we anticipated in our last, a decided advance has taken place, say from 2@5c ₱ lb on nearly all grades of fleece and pulled. The transactions of the week have been larger than any previous week this year, comprising 2,375,000 lbs domestic, and 1,200,000 lbs foreign, in all 3,575,000 lbs."

General Merchandise.

IRON—We quote a sale of 150 tons ex Barracouta on private terms.

CROCKERY—New York advices of Dec. 16th give Cadwallader's advices from England, that prices were still tending up.

BAGS—Messrs. Janion & Rhodes received a Cable dispatch from England to hold standard size Dundee Grain at 16 ½ cents.

DRY GOODS—The Boston Shipping List of Dec 16th says: "A very marked change has taken place in the market for Cotton Goods, since the closing of our last weekly report. The steady advance in the raw material, with prospects of a higher rate during the remainder of the season, convinced jobbers that goods had touched the lowest point, and they have commenced to buy quite freely. In many instances, the stocks in agents' hands have been sold clean out, and orders for them are refused except at value. Nearly all descriptions of Domestics have advanced or are tending that way, and the market closes somewhat excited."
